

What your muffins can do for mothers and midwives

£80 a month could train a midwife

In Ethiopia only around 6% of all births are attended by skilled health personnel.

There are only 2 midwives for every 10,000 people in Ethiopia compared to 101 in the UK.

This is Lensa whose midwifery training is being sponsored by previous Muffins for Midwives events.

Maternal health and family planning information provided by Maternity Worldwide.

£100 could provide maternal health promotion for a community

Knowing the risks of pregnancy and childbirth and when to seek medical assistance can mean the difference between life and death.

£15 could provide a safe birth

On average it costs just £15 to provide a safe birth for a mother at a health centre or hospital.

£1 could pay for a course of antibiotics to prevent infection after childbirth and £50 could pay for an emergency caesarean.

This is Chaltu and her husband whose twins were safely delivered by Maternity Worldwide.