

It's chocs away for

CHOCTOBER[©]

Whether you're asking for sponsorship or donating what you would have spent on chocolate, chuck the choc this October and help mothers in Africa give birth safely.

The difference you could make...

Donate £1

The cost of a small chocolate bar could pay for a course of antibiotics to prevent infection following childbirth.

Donate £15

The cost of a luxury box of chocolates could provide a safe birth for a mother and her baby.

Donate £30

The cost of a fancy chocolate cake could empower a woman to make her own decisions about her healthcare.

Donate £50

The cost of a posh chocolate fountain could provide an emergency delivery for a mother and her baby.

Sadly every day 800 women die during pregnancy and childbirth, most of these lives could be saved by relatively simple inexpensive measures. Whatever you can raise will help.
