

It's chocs away for

CHOCTOBER

©

Step away from the Snickers, trash the Twix and move away from the Mars... it's chocs away for Choctober! Chuck the chocolate this October and help mothers in Africa give birth safely.

Two ways to get involved...

Get friends and family to sponsor you...

We all know it's going to be a challenge so why not ask your friends and family to sponsor you. There is a sponsorship form on the back or you can set up a JustGiving page online so people can sponsor you quickly and easily. We've also included a collection box for those who want to drop in some cash!

Donate what you would have spent on chocolate for the month...

Every time you would have bought chocolate you can pop some money in the collection box or text a donation with the code 'CHOC97 £5' to 70070 (changing the amount between £1-£10). Or you can keep a note of the total spend and make a donation at the end of the month by cheque, card or online.

The difference you could make...

Sadly every day 800 women die during pregnancy or childbirth, most of these lives could be saved by relatively simple inexpensive measures. Whatever you can raise will help.

£1 - Could pay for a course of antibiotics to prevent infection following childbirth

£15 - Could sponsor a safe birth

£50 - Could sponsor an emergency delivery
